FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,724

A GAIN OF 400

In the daily circulation of the Times since Jan. 1st is something no other Washington county daily can show.

The circulation statements of the Times can always be verified by anyone who so wishes. Press room, circulation books, paper bills and all that pertains to the circulation of the Times are open to the inspection of all. Is there any other Washington county daily that will show up in like manner?

We trust that the hospital project for Barre is not itself in need of treatment.

To the enquiring stranger: No, Main street is not a quarry with the top being taken off. Main street is a public thoroughfare which, in the course of time, will be unsurpassed by any in the country in the point of quality of pavement.

The old-time custom of "barn-raising," now almost unknown, was exemplified recently at South Canaan, this state, and the event seems to have been in almost every way a repetition of those occasions which, in former years, were looked forward to with the greatest enthusiasm. There appears, however, to have been one thing lacking in the menu provided for the workers, and that was Vermont elder. If any was served it was not down on the published menu.

At Fairfield yesterday afternoon Vermont paid tribute to the memory of President Chester A. Arthur, by erecting a monument on the spot where stood the house in which he was born, while the only honor President Arthur ever conferred on Vermont was his chance birth in the state. But that is not the question. Vermonters may not have any sentimental feeling for the man who, when a mere lad, left the state of his birth, without having conferred any special benefit on the state. But from a historical view point the action in dedicating the monument yesterday was entirely commendable. Such bits of our national history should be kept in memory and one of the easiest ways to do that is by the erection of a monument which need not be elaborate to serve its purpose. The erection of the Arthur memorial was not of itself a state affair. It was national, and the erection should really have been made by the national government; but in view of the fact that the national government had overlooked the matter on account of its triviality the state of Vermont has done well in looking after it.

The first trial of the two yachting giants was unsatisfactory and indecisive. The weather conditions were far from the kind to make a good exhibition of sailing. In fact the conditions were about as poor as could be imagined. A light wind sinking gradually until in the latter part of the race, there was scarcely enough to fill the immense sails of the boats and a drenching downpour of rain falling, accompanied by a mist which shut off the yachts from the view of the spectators and made sailing difficult. Such was the inauspicious opening of the first race in the series of races, which is today occupying the attention of the yachting world. In such conditions the exhibition was a failure, and it was no true test of the merits of the Reliance and Shamrock III. The advantage, to be sure, appeared to be with the American boat, although the difference was not so appreciable as has been seen in previous races between British and American yachts. What the result will be in heavier winds is still an open question, but the brush between the two boats yesterday afternoon demonstrated that Reliance is probably faster in all light wind, although that fact is not conclusively proven. It is hoped that future contests between the two will be furnished with enough wind to at least allow the winner to finish in the time limit.

BERLIN.

Fish and Game Warden J. C. Webb succeeds Mr. Perkins as watchman around the pond for the health department of Montpelier.

Dogs have been chasing G. W. Dustin's sheep. Some of them are badly bitten, but it is not yet known how much damage has been done.

Will Dillingham of Northfield was in town the first of the week.

Last Sunday was a very good day at "Toots" and "Stewarts." All the cottages and boats were in use.

Edwin Andrews has been among the sick ones the past week.

If you can't go to the sail of Shamrock III and the Reliance, you can at least come to our sale. Perhaps not so much excitement, but more profit for you.

The popular taste has surged towards blue serge, the old favorite. Here it is—the genuine—and our August mark-down places it at $7.98. All wool, properly shrunk, firm, fine quality, fast color. What more do you want.

Ten pairs of Bicycle Trousers to close at 49c per pair. There were $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Appropriately Placed.
It must be true that "money talks." As it is said:
That's why we put on all our coins
A woman's head.
—Philadelphia Press.

Rescue Certain.
Stella—But aren't you afraid of going out beyond your depth?
Bella—Oh, no! All the men around here think I'm an heiress!—Puck.

Her Place.
Dolly—What place does Mrs. Rusher hold in the Four Hundred?
Kitty—Oh, she's one of the naughts.—Baltimore American.

Critical Moment.
Once to every bustling student
Comes the moment to decide,
When he hears collectors' footsteps,
Whether he shall pay or hide.
—Yale Record.

He Couldn't Help It.

"That young man actually had the audacity to smile at me."
"You can't really blame him, mamma. You've no idea how funny you look."—New York American.

Divorce Laws and Divorcees.
The country with perhaps the most lenient divorce laws in the world is Sweden, and there the divorce rate is lower than in the Netherlands, which, after England, has the strictest laws in the world.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS.

Silver mounted "engagement pads" help to make easy the pathway of the society woman.

A large square cut emerald set around squarely with brilliant makes an imposing ring for masculine use.

A great array of rubies has appeared in rings and brooches, and the ruby and diamond combination remains unsurpassed.

Chrysoprase is one of the pleasing newer materials for the adornment of parrot handles, and gold mounted porcelain and enamels both rank among the finer presentments of these articles.—Jewelers' Circular-Weekly.

WALL STREET.

The trouble with Wall street is that somebody's been squeezing the sponge. —Baltimore News.

Russell Sage talks sweetly when Wall street is mentioned, but he trusts it only when its collateral are gilded. —Birmingham Age-Herald.

We live to learn, and the people of the United States have had another wholesome lesson. They have seen that values cannot be created by an artificial process and that sooner or later values, like water, will seek their level. —Richmond Times-Dispatch.

RECENT INVENTIONS.

An inventor has perfected a device by which hand organs and similar instruments using perforated rolls can be kept playing continuously, with no pauses to change the music.

An invention for manufacturing gas out of chalk has been tried in Sussex, England, with it is said, surprising success. To every hundred tons of chalk will be mixed about ten tons of coke or coke breeze, and from this it is claimed 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas will be obtained.
